

South American Detox

Jon Carters terminally bored and as a know-it-all IT project manager hes become a sad individual with an over-organised existence. Naively hoping to detox himself into someone who understands more about life than just computer planning and analysis, he decides to jack it all in and go travelling around South America on a truck. However, what he doesnt realise is that its not the South Americans, the insects and the nasty diseases hell struggle to cope with. Its the people on the truck who will make his life hell.
